General Information on Data Handling

The scope of personal data processing

We collect and use your personal data only to the extent necessary to provide a functional website as well as functional content and services. Personal data is information that can be used to identify a person, i.e. information that can be traced back to a person. This includes your name, email address or telephone number. This data refers only to a natural person, not to a legal (company). The collection and use of your personal data takes place regularly only after your consent. An exception applies in those cases where prior consent cannot be obtained for valid reasons and the processing of the data is permitted by law. The term "you/user/your" refers to all customers and visitors to our website. The terms used, such as "user", are to be understood as gender-neutral. If "we" or "us" is mentioned in the text, this refers to SAXOPRINT Limited.

Basic information on data processing and legal bases

We process personal data only in compliance with the relevant data protection regulations. This means that your data will only be processed if permission has been given or if statutory regulations are processed. I.e. in detail that:

- the processing of data for the provision of our contractual services (e.g. processing of orders) and online services is required or prescribed by law;
- your consent has been given;
- is based on our legitimate interests (i.e. interest in the analysis, optimisation and economic operation and security of our website), in particular range measurement; creation of anonymous profiles for advertising and marketing purposes (by collecting access data and using the services of third-party providers).

With regard to the processing of personal data on the basis of the GDPR, we make reference to:

- the legal basis of consent in Article 6, section 1, subsection a and Article 7 of the GDPR;
- the legal basis for processing the fulfilment of our services and the implementation of contractual measures in Article 6, section 1, subsection b of the GDPR;
- the legal basis for processing to fulfil our legal obligations in Article 6, section 1, subsection c of the GDPR;
- the legal basis for processing to protect our legitimate interests in Article 6, section 1, subsection f of the GDPR.

In the event that the vital interests of the data subject or another natural person require the processing of personal data, Article 6, section 1, subsection d serves as the legal basis.

Registration with third-party authentication services

Some of our campaigns require you to register and log in using third-party authentication services, as far as they are available (hereinafter referred to as "third-party authentication"). Authentication services can be e.g. Facebook, Twitter or Google (hereinafter referred to as "authentication provider").

The prerequisite for third-party authentication is that you are registered with the respective authentication provider and enter the required access data on the web form provided for this purpose. The actual registration takes place directly with the respective authentication provider.

During registration we will receive a user ID with the information that you are logged in under this user ID. Furthermore, we will receive a temporary ID ("User Handle") that we will not be able to use indefinitely. Whether we receive additional information depends solely on the third-party authentication you use, the data sharing settings you choose for authentication, and also what information you have shared in the privacy or other settings of your user account with the authentication provider. Depending on the authentication provider and your selections, the data we receive will vary, but it is usually your email address and user name. In the case of Facebook, this is known as "public information" that everyone can see. These include the name, profile and cover picture, gender, networks (e.g. school or workplace), user name (Facebook URL) and user ID (Facebook ID).

The password entered as part of third-party authentication is neither visible to us nor is it stored by us.

Please note that your data stored with us can be automatically compared with your user account with the authentication provider, but this is not always possible or actually happens. For example, if your email address changes, you will have to change it manually in your user account with us.

If you decide that you no longer want to use the user account link with the authentication provider for third-party authentication, you must cancel this connection within your user account with the authentication provider. If you wish to delete your data with us, you must have your account deleted with us.

You should note that when using third-party authentication, both the terms of use and data usage policies, as well as revocation and objection options of the authentication providers, apply.

These are in particular:

X (Twitter) (<https://twitter.com/en/tos>, <https://twitter.com/en/privacy>),

Facebook (<https://www.facebook.com/legal/terms>, <https://www.facebook.com/policy.php>).

Collection of access data

On the basis of our legitimate interests, we collect data about every access to the server on which this service is located (so-called "server log files"). The access data includes:

- Name of the retrieved website/file
- Date and time of retrieval
- transferred data volume
- Notification of successful retrieval
- browser type and version, the operating system of the calling device
- Referrer URL (the previously visited page)
- IP address and the requesting provider

Log file information is stored for a maximum of seven days for security reasons (e.g. to investigate misuse or fraud) and then deleted. Data which requires further storage for evidentiary purposes are excluded from deletion until the respective incident has been finally clarified.

Data deletion and storage time

The personal data of the person concerned will be deleted or blocked as soon as the purpose of storage ceases to apply. Furthermore, data may be stored if this has been provided for by the European or national legislator in EU regulations, laws or other provisions to which the person responsible is subject. The data will also be blocked or deleted if a storage period prescribed by the aforementioned standards expires, unless there is a need for further storage of the data for the conclusion or fulfilment of a contract.

Use of analysis services

Use of Google Analytics

Our website uses Google (Universal) Analytics, a web analytics service provided by Google Ireland Limited, Gordon House, 4 Barrow St, Dublin, Ireland ("Google"). Google (Universal) Analytics uses "cookies", which are text files placed on your computer, to help the website analyse how users use the site. The information generated by the cookie about your use of the website (including your IP address) will be transmitted to and stored by Google on servers in the United States.

Our website uses Google (Universal) Analytics exclusively with the extension "_anonymizeIp()", which ensures anonymisation of the IP address by shortening it and excludes direct personal reference. The extension means that your IP address is shortened beforehand by Google within member states of the European Union or in other contracting states to the Agreement on the European Economic Area. Only in exceptional cases will the full IP address be transmitted to a Google LLC server in the USA and shortened there.

Google will use this information on our behalf for the purpose of evaluating your use of the website, compiling reports on website activity and providing other services relating to website activity and internet usage. In this context, the IP address transmitted by your browser as part of Google (Universal) Analytics will not be merged with other Google data.

Google Analytics also enables the creation of statistics with statements about the age, gender and interests of site visitors on the basis of an evaluation of interest-based advertising and with the inclusion of third-party information via a special function, the so-called "demographic characteristics". This allows the definition and differentiation of user groups of the website for the purpose of targeting marketing measures. However, data records collected via the "demographic characteristics" cannot be assigned to a specific person.

Details of the processing triggered by Google Analytics and Google's handling of data from websites can be found here: How Google uses information from sites or apps that use our services - Privacy & Terms - Google.

All of the processing described above, in particular the setting of Google Analytics cookies for the reading of information on the end device used, will only be carried out if you have given us your express consent to do so in accordance with article 6, section 1, subsection a of the GDPR. Without this consent, Google Analytics will not be used during your visit to the site.

You can revoke your consent at any time with effect for the future. To exercise your revocation, please deactivate this service in the "Cookie Consent Tool" provided on our website under Cookie Settings. For this purpose, we have concluded an order processing agreement with Google for the use of Google Analytics, which obliges Google to protect the data of our site visitors and not to pass it on to third parties. For the transfer of data from the EU to the USA, Google refers to the so-called standard data protection clauses of the European Commission, which are intended to ensure compliance with the European level of data protection in the USA.

Further information on Google (Universal) Analytics can be found here: Privacy Policy - Privacy Policy & Terms of Use - Google

In connection with this website, the "UserIDs" function is also used as an extension of Google Analytics. By assigning individual UserIDs, we can have Google generate cross-device reports (so-called "cross-device tracking"). This means that your usage behaviour can also be analysed across devices if you have given your corresponding consent to the use of Google Analytics in accordance with article 6, section 1 of the GDPR, if you have set up a personal account by registering on this website and are logged into your personal account on different end devices with your relevant login data. The data collected in this way shows, among other things, on which end device you clicked on an ad for the first time and on which end device the relevant conversion took place.

Google Analytics 4

Our website uses Google Analytics 4, a service provided by Google Ireland Limited, Gordon House, 4 Barrow St, Dublin, Ireland ("Google"), which can be used to analyse the use of websites.

When using Google Analytics 4, so-called "cookies" are used as standard. Cookies are text files that are stored on your terminal device and enable an analysis of your use of a website. The information collected by cookies about your use of the website (including the IP address transmitted by your terminal device, shortened by the last few digits, see below) is usually transmitted to a Google server and stored and processed there. This may also result in the transmission of information to the servers of Google LLC, a company based in the USA, where the information is further processed.

When using Google Analytics 4, the IP address transmitted by your terminal device when you use the website is always collected and processed automatically and by default only in an anonymised manner, so that the information collected cannot be directly related to a person. This automatic anonymisation is carried out by Google shortening the IP address transmitted by your terminal device within member states of the European Union (EU) or other contracting states of the Agreement on the European Economic Area (EEA) by the last digits.

Google uses this and other information on our behalf to evaluate your use of the website, to compile reports on your website activities and usage behaviour and to provide us with other services related to your website and internet usage. In this context, the IP address transmitted and shortened by your terminal device within the scope of Google Analytics 4 will not be merged with other data from Google. The data collected in the context of the use of Google Analytics 4 will be stored for 2 months and then deleted.

Google Analytics 4 also enables the creation of statistics with statements about the age, gender and interests of website users on the basis of an evaluation of interest-based advertising and with the inclusion of third-party information via a special function, the so-called "demographic characteristics". This makes it possible to determine and distinguish user groups of the website for the purpose of targeting marketing measures. However, data collected via the "demographic characteristics" cannot be assigned to a specific person and thus also not to you personally. This data collected via the "demographic characteristics" function is kept for two months and then deleted.

All processing described above, in particular the setting of Google Analytics cookies for the storage and reading of information on the end device used by you for the use of the website, will only take place if you have given us your express consent for this in accordance with article 6, section 1, subsection a of the GDPR. Without your consent, Google Analytics 4 will not be used during your use of the website. You can revoke your consent at any time with effect for the future. To exercise your revocation, please deactivate this service via the "Cookie Consent Tool" provided on our website under Cookie Settings.

In connection with our website, the "UserIDs" function is also used as an extension of Google Analytics 4. By assigning individual UserIDs, we can have Google create cross-device reports (so-called "cross-device tracking"). This means that your usage behaviour can also be analysed across devices if you have given your corresponding consent to the use of Google Analytics 4 in accordance with article 6, section 1, subsection a of the GDPR, if you have set up a personal account by registering on this website and are logged into your personal account on different end devices with your relevant login data. The data collected in this way shows, among other things, on which end device you clicked on an ad for the first time and on which end device the relevant conversion took place.

We have concluded an order processing agreement with Google for our use of Google Analytics 4, which obliges Google to protect the data of our website users and not to pass it on to third parties.

To ensure compliance with the European level of data protection, even in the event of any transfer of data from the EU or EEA to the USA and possible further processing there, Google refers to the standard contractual clauses of the European Commission, which we have contractually agreed with Google.

Further legal information on Google Analytics 4, including a copy of the aforementioned standard contractual clauses, can be found at the following link: Privacy Policy - Privacy Policy & Terms of Use - Google and under General Conditions for Data Transfers - Privacy Policy & Terms of Use - Google.

Details on the processing triggered by Google Analytics 4 and Google's handling of data from websites can be found here: <https://policies.google.com/technologies/partner-sites?hl=en-GB>

Use of Hotjar

We use Hotjar, a web analysis tool from Hotjar Ltd (Dragonara Business Centre, 5th floor, Dragonara Road, Paceville St. Julian's, STJ 3141, Malta). Hotjar records the interactions of randomly selected individual visitors to our website in anonymised form. This creates a log of mouse movements and clicks, for example, with the aim of identifying possible improvements to our website. In addition, information about the operating system, browser, incoming and outgoing links, geographical origin as well as resolution and type of the calling up terminal device are evaluated by means of Hotjar for statistical purposes. In addition, we offer the possibility to leave anonymous user feedback via "feedback pools" via Hotjar. The information collected is not personal, is stored by Hotjar Ltd. and is not passed on to any other third parties.

Additional information on functions and data usage using Hotjar can be found at: <https://www.hotjar.com/legal/policies/privacy>. If you do not want a website analysis using Hotjar, you can deactivate it on all websites using Hotjar by setting a "DoNotTrack header" in your browser (opt-out): <https://www.hotjar.com/policies/do-not-track/>.

Google Tag Manager

On our Website, we use "Google Tag Manager", a service provided by Google Ireland Limited, Google Building Gordon House, Barrow St, Dublin 4, Ireland (hereafter referred to as "Google"). This service allows website tags to be managed through an interface. Google Tag Manager only implements tags. No cookies are used and no personal information is collected. Google Tag Manager also triggers other tags, which in turn may collect data. However, it does not access this data itself. If disabled at the domain or cookie level, it will remain disabled for all tracking tags implemented by Google Tag Manager. You can find more information at <https://policies.google.com/privacy?hl=en-GB&%3Bgl=en>.

Newsletter Tracking (Emarsys Web Extend)

We use the user tracking script "Web Extend" from Emarsys Interactive Services GmbH, Willi-Schwabe-Strasse 1, 12489 Berlin. Web Extend uses cookies and JavaScript to enable individualised content. With the help of Web Extend, we can investigate user behaviour of visitors to our website in pseudonymised and anonymised form. We use the information generated to make our e-mail communication as interesting as possible for you. You can deactivate data processing by Web Extend at any time by changing the cookie settings.

LinkedIn Insight-Tag and LinkedIn Ads

We use the LinkedIn Insight tag on our website (LinkedIn Ireland Unlimited Company, Wilton Place, Dublin 2, Ireland). This analysis and tracking tool allows us to create reports on the use of our website, optimise our ads with LinkedIn Conversion Tracking and create retargeting lists to target our website visitors to LinkedIn. This enables us to provide targeted, relevant information to our LinkedIn visitors. The LinkedIn Insight tag uses cookies and collects anonymous information about visitors to our site, such as the URL, device and browser characteristics, and more. LinkedIn does not share any personally identifiable information with this site, and all reports about visitors and ads are anonymous summaries only. If you do not wish to participate in tracking with the LinkedIn Insight tag and do not wish to receive interest-based advertising, you may opt-out of receiving interest-based advertising by clicking on the following link: <https://www.linkedin.com/psettings/guest-controls/retargeting-opt-out>. For more information about LinkedIn's privacy policy, please visit <https://www.linkedin.com/legal/privacy-policy>.

Google Web Fonts

This site uses web fonts provided by Google Ireland Limited (Gordon House, 4 Barrow St, Dublin, Ireland) ("Google") for the uniform display of fonts. When you access a page, your browser loads the required web fonts into your browser cache to display text and fonts correctly. To do this, the browser you are using must connect to Google's servers. This may also involve the transmission of personal data to the servers of Google LLC. in the USA. In this way, Google obtains knowledge that our website has been accessed via your IP address. The use of Google Web Fonts is in the interest of a uniform and attractive presentation of our online offers. This represents a legitimate interest in the sense of article 6, section 1, subsection f of the GDPR. If your browser does not support Web Fonts, a standard font from your computer will be used.

Further information on Google Web Fonts can be found at <https://developers.google.com/fonts/faq> and in the Google data protection declaration: <https://www.google.com/policies/privacy/>.

reCAPTCHA

Within the scope of our services, we use reCAPTCHA from Google Ireland Limited (Gordon House, 4 Barrow St, Dublin, Ireland) ("Google"). This function is mainly used to differentiate whether an entry is made by a natural person or abusively by machine and automated processing. The service includes the sending of the IP address and, if applicable, other data required by Google for the service to Google and is carried out in accordance with article 6, section 1, subsection f of the GDPR based on our legitimate interest in establishing individual responsibility on the Internet and avoiding misuse and spam. While using Google reCAPTCHA, personal data may also be transferred to the servers of Google LLC. in the USA.

Further information about Google reCAPTCHA and Google's privacy policy can be found at <https://www.google.com/policies/privacy/>.

Site Search 360

We use Site Search 360, a search service of SEMKNOX GmbH, Webergasse 1, 01067 Dresden, Germany, in the context of the product search on our website. With this service, suitable search results can be displayed on our website by means of a search query. Within the scope of the search query, the search term as well as your IP address and any session ID assigned will be transmitted. SEMKNOX also uses cookies, which enable the search function to be carried out successfully. On our behalf SEMKNOX will use this information to answer your search query. For further information please visit <https://www.sitesearch360.com/privacy-policy/>.

Usercentrics

We use the Usercentrics Consent Management Platform to fulfil the legal obligation according to article 7, section 1 of the GDPR. The operator is Usercentrics GmbH, Sendlinger Strasse, 80331 Munich, Germany. Usercentrics Consent Management Platform collects log file data, user agent (device, browser type, browser language, browser version, resolution) and consent data (consent yes/no, time stamp, data scope, data attributes, ControllerID, ProcessorID, ConsentID) via a Javascript. This JavaScript enables Usercentrics GmbH to inform the user about certain tags and web technologies on our website and to obtain, manage and document his or her consent. You can permanently prevent the execution of JavaScript at any time by making appropriate settings in your browser, which would also prevent Usercentrics from executing the JavaScript. Further information on data protection at Usercentrics can be found at: <https://usercentrics.com/privacy-policy/>.

Use of social plugins

Facebook

We use so-called social plugins ("plugins") of the social network Facebook, which is operated by Meta Platforms Ireland Ltd. (Merrion Road, D04 X2K5, Dublin 4, Ireland), a subsidiary of Meta Platforms Inc. (1 Meta Way, Menlo Park, California, 94025, USA). The plugins are marked with a Facebook logo or the addition "Facebook Social Plug-in" or "Facebook Social Plugin". An overview of the Facebook plugins and their appearance can be found here: https://developers.facebook.com/docs/plugins?locale=en_EN.

When you access a page of our website that contains such a plugin, your browser establishes a direct connection to the Facebook servers. The content of the plugin is transmitted directly from Facebook to your browser and integrated into the website.

By integrating the plugins, Facebook receives the information that your browser has called up the corresponding page of our website, even if you do not have a Facebook account or are not currently logged on to Facebook. This information (including your IP address) is transmitted directly from your browser to a Facebook server in the USA and stored there.

If you are logged in to Facebook, Facebook can directly associate your next visit to our website with your Facebook account. If you interact with the plugins, for example by clicking the "like" button or making a comment, the corresponding information is also transmitted directly to a Facebook server and stored there. The information is also published on Facebook and displayed to your Facebook friends. Facebook may use this information for the purposes of advertising, market research and demand-oriented design of Facebook pages. To this end, Facebook creates usage, interest and relationship profiles, e.g. to evaluate your use of our website with regard to the advertisements displayed to you on Facebook, to inform other Facebook users about your activities on our website and to provide other services associated with the use of Facebook.

If you do not want Facebook to link the data collected via our website with your Facebook account, you must log out of Facebook before visiting our website and delete all stored data (cookies) from Facebook from your browser if necessary.

To find out more about the reasons and range of data collection, the further processing and use of the data by Facebook as well as your respective rights and setting options for the protection of your privacy, please refer to the data protection information of Facebook: www.facebook.com/about/privacy

X (Twitter „Tweet Button“)

We use functions of the service X (Twitter). These features are provided by Twitter Inc. (1355 Market Street, Suite 900, San Francisco, CA 94103, USA). By using X and the "Re-Tweet" function, X links the user's X account with the websites you visit. This is communicated primarily to the user's followers on X. Data is also transmitted to X servers. We would like to point out that we are not aware of the content of the data transmitted or how it is used by X. Further information is available under the following link: <https://twitter.com/privacy?lang=en>.

Privacy settings on X can be changed in the account settings at: <https://twitter.com/settings/account>.

If you are a X member and have logged in to X and do not want X to collect data about you when you visit our website and link to your membership data stored on X, you must log out of X before visiting our website and delete all stored data (cookies) from X from your browser if necessary.

Instagram

We use the Instagram service. Instagram is a service of Meta Platforms Ireland Ltd. (Merrion Road, D04 X2K5, Dublin 4, Ireland), a subsidiary of Meta Platforms Inc. (1 Meta Way, Menlo Park, California, 94025, USA). The integrated "Insta" button on our site informs Instagram that you have visited the corresponding page of our website. If you are logged in to Instagram, Instagram can link this visit to our site to your Instagram account. Instagram saves the data transmitted by clicking the "Insta" button. For information about the purpose and scope of data collection, processing and use, and your rights and privacy choices, please refer to Instagram's Privacy Policy, which is available at: <https://help.instagram.com/155833707900388>.

To prevent Instagram from linking your next visit to our site with your Instagram account, you must log out of your Instagram account and delete all Instagram data (cookies) from your browser before visiting our site.

LinkedIn

Our website uses the functions of the LinkedIn network (LinkedIn Ireland Unlimited Company, Wilton Place, Dublin 2, Ireland). Every time you visit one of our pages that contains any LinkedIn functions, a connection to LinkedIn's servers is established. LinkedIn is informed that you are visiting our website. In addition, your IP address will be transmitted to LinkedIn. If you click the "Recommend button" of LinkedIn and are logged in to LinkedIn, it is possible for LinkedIn to attribute the visit to our website to you and your LinkedIn user account. We point out that we have no knowledge of the content of the transmitted data and their use by LinkedIn. Further information can be found in LinkedIn's privacy policy at: <https://www.linkedin.com/legal/privacy-policy>.

To prevent LinkedIn from associating your next visit to our site with your LinkedIn account, you must log out of your LinkedIn account before visiting our site and delete all stored LinkedIn data (cookies) from your browser if necessary.

YouTube

We use the plugins from YouTube (Google Ireland Limited, Gordon House, 4 Barrow St, Dublin, Ireland). If you visit one of our pages equipped with a YouTube plugin, a connection to the YouTube servers is established. The Youtube server is informed which of our pages you are visiting. If you are logged in to your YouTube account, YouTube is able to map your surfing behavior to your YouTube user profile. This can be prevented by logging out of your YouTube account and deleting all stored data (cookies) from YouTube from your browser if necessary. Further information can be found in YouTube's privacy policy at: <https://www.google.com/intl/en/policies/privacy>.

Comments & Contact

Contact opportunities

On our website we offer you the possibility to contact us via e-mail and/or via contact form. In this case, the information provided by the user will be stored for the purpose of answering enquiries. The data will not be passed on to third parties. Cross-referencing the data collected in this way with data that may be collected by other elements of our site does not take place either.

Newsletter

Description and scope of data processing

With the following information we will inform you about the contents of our newsletter as well as the registration, dispatch and statistical evaluation procedure and your rights of objection. By subscribing to our newsletter, you agree to receiving newsletters and the procedures described.

Content of the newsletter

We will only send newsletters, emails and other electronic notifications containing advertising information (hereinafter "newsletters") with the consent of the user or with legal permission. Insofar as a registration to the newsletter and its content has been outlined in concrete terms, this information is binding for the user's consent.

In addition, our newsletters contain information about new offers, current promotions and news concerning SAXOPRINT Limited.

Double-Opt-In and documentation

The registration for our newsletter takes place in a so-called double opt-in procedure: This means that after registration you will receive an email asking you to confirm your registration. This confirmation is necessary so that nobody can log in with another email address. Subscriptions to the newsletter are documented so that the registration process can be proven in accordance with legal requirements. This includes saving the date and time of registration and confirmation.

Email dispatch service provider ("dispatch service provider")

The newsletter is sent out on the basis of our legitimate interests as defined in article 6 section 1, sub-section f of the GDPR via Emarsys Interactive Services GmbH, Willi-Schwabe-Strasse 1, 12489 Berlin, Germany (hereinafter referred to as "dispatch service provider"). The data protection regulations of the dispatch service provider can be viewed here: <https://www.emarsys.com/en/privacy-policy/>. Furthermore, the dispatch service provider can use this data in an anonymous form, i.e. without assignment to a user, to optimise or improve its own services, e.g. for technical optimisation of the dispatch and presentation of the newsletter or for statistical purposes in order to determine which countries the recipients are from. However, the service does not use the data of our newsletter recipients to write them down or pass them on to third parties.

Registration details

To subscribe to the newsletter, all you need to do is enter your e-mail address, your name and customer type, in order to be contacted personally and to tailor the content of the newsletter.

Statistical surveys and analyses

The newsletters contain a so-called "web-beacon" or "web bug", i.e. a pixel-sized file that is retrieved from our server when the newsletter is opened. In the course of this retrieval, technical information such as information about the browser and your system as well as your IP address and the time of retrieval are initially collected. This information is used to improve the technical performance of the services based on the technical data or the target groups and their reading habits based on their retrieval locations (which can be determined using the IP address) or access times. The statistical surveys also include determining whether the newsletters are opened, when they are opened and which links are clicked. This information can be assigned to individual newsletter recipients for technical reasons, but we are not interested in monitoring individual users. The evaluations serve us rather to recognize the reading habits of our users and to adapt our contents to them or to send different contents according to the interests of our users. The statistical surveys and analyses as well as the logging of the application procedure are carried out on the basis of our legitimate interests as defined in article 6, section 1, sub-section f of the GDPR. We are interested in providing a user-friendly and secure newsletter system that serves our business interests and meets the expectations of the user.

Legal basis for data processing

The legal basis of the processing of data after registration to the Newsletter is, with the user's consent, article 6, section 1, sub-section a of the GDPR.

The purposes of data processing

The purpose of collecting the user's e-mail address is for sending the newsletter.

The collection of other personal data as part of the registration process serves to prevent misuse of the services or the email address in question.

Duration of storage

The data will be deleted as soon as it is no longer required to fulfil the purpose for which it was collected. The user's email address will therefore be stored for as long as the subscription to the newsletter is still active.

Other personal data collected during the registration process will generally be deleted after a period of seven days.

Possibility of objection and elimination

The subscription to the newsletter can be cancelled by the user concerned at any time. For this purpose, there is a corresponding link in every newsletter. If you have subscribed to the newsletter and cancelled this subscription, your personal data will be deleted accordingly.

Competitions, campaigns and events

If you decide to participate in any of our promotions, we will ask you to provide us with your name, date of birth, email address, telephone number and/or postal address to ensure that each user participates only once and to inform you of the progress of the promotion. In connection with the organisation of competitions or other events, the necessary personal data of the participants will also be transmitted to the associated co-organisers, cooperation partners and sponsors as well as other media. For details on the partners, please consult the relevant promotional details. The use of the data is limited exclusively to the purpose of the respective action. The personal data collected will not be pooled with other data sources. After completion of the respective action, the collected data will be deleted. Any other stipulations require your explicit consent.

Online advertising and targeting

Google Dynamic Remarketing

We use the dynamic remarketing function of "Google AdWords", a service of Google (Google Ireland Limited, Gordon House, 4 Barrow St, Dublin, Ireland). The technology enables us to place automatically generated, target group-oriented advertising following your next visit to our website. The ads are based on the products and services you clicked on the last time you visited our website.

Google uses cookies to create interest-based ads. Google usually saves information such as your web request, IP address, browser type, browser language, date and time of your request. This information is only used to assign the web browser to a specific computer. They cannot be used to identify a person.

If users do not wish to receive user-based advertising from Google, advertisements may be turned off using Google's ad preferences (<https://www.google.com/settings/u/0/ads/authenticated?hl=en>).

DoubleClick, Google-Ads and Google Conversion Tracking (Google Ads)

To draw your attention to our products, we place advertisements relevant to you and use the "Google Conversion Tracking", a service of Google (Google Ireland Limited, Gordon House, 4 Barrow St, Dublin, Ireland). These ads appear after searches on Google Network web pages. We have the possibility to combine our ads with certain search terms.

When you click on an ad, DoubleClick (DoubleClick is a trademark of the company Google LLC) sets a cookie on your computer. Cookies enable us to serve ads based on a user's previous visits.

The use of DoubleClick cookies ("floodlights") only allows Google and its partner websites to place ads based on previous visits to our or other websites on the Internet. The information generated by the cookies is transmitted by Google to a server in the USA for analysis and stored there. A transfer of data by Google to third parties only takes place due to legal regulations or within the scope of order data processing. DoubleClick cookies help Google and we as a customer receive information that a user clicked on an ad and was redirected to our website. The information obtained in this way is used exclusively for statistical evaluation to optimize our advertisements. We do not receive any information that personally identifies you. The statistics provided to us by Google include the total number of users who clicked on one of our ads and, if applicable, whether they were redirected to a page of our website with a conversion tag (identifier for a page on the e.g. a purchase transaction is completed). On the basis of these statistics, we can trace which search terms were clicked on our ad most frequently and which ads led to an action by the user.

Further information can be found in Google's privacy policy: <http://www.google.de/policies/technologies/ads/>.

If you don't want this to happen, you can prevent the storage of the cookies required for these technologies, e.g. via the settings of your browser. In this case, your next visit will not be included in the user statistics. You can change this using Google's ad settings (<https://www.google.com/settings/u/0/ads/authenticated?hl=en>) and disable interest-based ads.

Use of Facebook Retargeting (Facebook Pixel)

We use the retargeting technology "Website Custom Audience" of the social network Facebook, which is operated Meta Platforms Ireland Ltd. (Merrion Road, D04 X2K5, Dublin 4, Ireland), a subsidiary of Meta Platforms Inc. (1 Meta Way, Menlo Park, California, 94025, USA) ("Facebook") and enables us to display relevant advertising and offers to web site users who are already interested in our Internet presence and are Facebook members, on Facebook via the Facebook Ad Network.

To display these advertisements, we have embedded a Facebook retargeting pixel on our website that enables Facebook to record our users as visitors to our website using a pseudonym and to use this data for our ad placements on Facebook. Personal data is not collected or stored. Users cannot be identified on Facebook. Facebook does not link the data collected via the retargeting pixel to the user data stored about a person on Facebook. Further information on data protection and setting options can be found at: <https://www.facebook.com/settings/?tab=ads> and at <https://www.facebook.com/about/privacy>. Users may object to the use of Facebook Website Custom Audiences at: <https://www.facebook.com/settings/?tab=ads>.

Microsoft Bing Ads

Our website uses conversion tracking from Microsoft (Microsoft Corporation, One Microsoft Way, Redmond, WA 98052-6399, USA). This allows us and Microsoft Bing to recognize that someone has clicked on an ad, been redirected to our site, and has reached a predetermined conversion page. We only see the total number of users who clicked on a Bing ad and were then redirected to the conversion page. No personal information about the identity of the user will be disclosed. If you do not wish to participate in the tracking process, you can also reject the setting of a cookie required for this - for example using a browser setting that will deactivate the automatic setting of cookies in general. Integration of third-party services and content

It is possible that contents of third parties, e.g. in the form of YouTube videos, Google Maps mapping material, RSS feeds or graphics from other platforms may be integrated within the SAXOPRINT online services. There is the chance that the suppliers of this content may be able to see the IP address of the user, as they cannot send the content to the browser of the individual user if the IP address is not known. In such a case, the IP address is required to display the contents of third parties. SAXOPRINT takes care to only use content for which IP addresses are solely used for the purpose of distribution. However, SAXOPRINT has no influence on if the IP address is stored for the information of third parties by the respective provider, e.g. for statistical purposes. In so far as SAXOPRINT has information on this, the users will be informed.

Data integrity

We protect our website and other systems by technical and organisational measures against data loss, destruction, unauthorised access, modification or distribution. Access is only possible after entering your personal password. You should always keep your access information confidential and close the browser window when you have finished communicating with us, especially if you share your computer with others.

Links (hyperlinks) to third-party websites

Our Internet services contain links to external third-party websites, the contents of which are beyond our control. Therefore, we cannot assume any liability for these external contents. The respective provider or operator of the pages is always responsible for the contents of the linked pages. The linked pages were checked for possible legal infringements at the time of linking. Illegal contents were not recognizable at the time of linking. However, permanent monitoring of the content of the linked pages is unreasonable without concrete evidence of a violation of the law. If we become aware of any infringements, we will remove such links immediately.

Our website may contain partnerships with various service providers. Our website enables our users to access the offers and services of partner companies in individual cases. Users of the website may enter into a contractual relationship with the respective service provider by using the services of the latter, for which the corresponding contractual conditions of the service provider then apply. The legal and content responsibility of SAXOPRINT for the services offered on the websites of the partner companies lies solely with the respective partner companies whose contents are accessed via our homepage. When using the services of a third-party service provider, contractual relationships are established exclusively with the respective partner company and the user in accordance with the conditions applicable to this contractual relationship. This should be stated on the relevant website or in the Terms of Use or Privacy Policies. SAXOPRINT has no control over the content or operation of third-party websites and is not responsible for the information contained on these websites.

Similarly, SAXOPRINT is neither responsible for the fulfilment of orders or services ordered via such a website, nor is SAXOPRINT responsible for the data protection guidelines ("Privacy Policies") of such websites and the data that are expressly or automatically collected there.

In the event of difficulties or other problems in connection with third-party websites, we would ask you to contact these third parties directly and not SAXOPRINT.

Legal basis for data processing

The legal basis for data processing and temporary storage of data and log files is article 6, section 1 subsection f of the GDPR

Purpose of data processing

The temporary storage of IP addresses by our system is necessary to enable the website to be transmitted to the user's computer. For this, the IP address of the user must remain stored for the duration of the session. The data is stored in log files to ensure the operation of the website. In addition, the data serves us to optimise the website and to ensure the security of our information technology systems. An evaluation of the data for marketing purposes does not take place in this context.

Our legitimate interest in data processing is in accordance with article 6, section 1, subsection f of the GDPR.

Duration of storage

The data will be deleted as soon as it is no longer needed to fulfil the purpose for which it was collected.

In the case of the collection of data for the provision of the website, this will occur when the respective session has ended.

If the data is stored in log files, this will happen after seven days at the latest. Any further storage is done only by deleting or altering the IP addresses of the users, so that an assignment of the calling browser is no longer possible.

Possibility of objection and elimination

The collection of data for the provision of the website and the storage of data in log files is absolutely necessary for the operation of the website. Consequently, there is no possibility of objection on the part of the user.

Use of cookies on the website

Description and scope of data processing

Our website uses cookies. Cookies are text files that are stored in the Internet browser or by the Internet browser on the user's computer system. If a user visits a website, a cookie may be stored on the user's operating system. This cookie contains a characteristic character string that enables a unique identification of the browser when the website is called up again.

We use cookies to make our website more user-friendly. Some elements of our website require that the calling browser can be identified even after a page change.

The following data is stored in the cookies and transmitted to us every time a page is accessed:

- (1) Language settings;
- (2) Session information, e.g. items in the shopping cart;
- (3) Log-in information.

We also use cookies on our website which enable an analysis of the user's browsing behaviour.

In this way, the following data can be determined:

- (1) Entered search terms;
- (2) Frequency of page views;
- (3) Use of website functions;
- (4) Type of use (device type, screen resolution, speed, language).

The user data collected in this way is made anonymous by technical safeguards. Therefore, it is no longer possible to assign the data to the calling user. The data will not be stored together with other personal data of the users.

When you visit our website, an information banner informs you about the use of cookies for analytical purposes and refers you to this data protection statement. In this context, there is also a note on how the storage of cookies can be prevented in the browser settings.

Legal basis for data processing

The legal basis for the processing of personal data using cookies is article 6, section 1, sub-section f of the GDPR.

Purpose of data processing

The purpose of using cookies, which are technologically necessary, is to simplify the use of websites for users. Some functions of our website cannot be offered without the use of cookies. For this it is necessary that the browser is recognized even after a page change.

We need cookies for the following applications:

- (1) Language settings;
- (2) Session information, e.g. items in the shopping cart;
- (3) Log-in information.

The user data collected by cookies, which are technically necessary, are not used to create user profiles.

The cookies are used to improve the quality of our website and its content. Through the cookies we learn how the website is used and can thus continuously optimise our services.

Further information can also be found in the chapter "The use of analysis services". For these purposes, our legitimate interest also lies in the processing of personal data in accordance with article 6, section 1, subsection f of the GDPR.

Duration of storage, possibility of objection and elimination

Cookies are stored on the user's computer and transmitted to our website. Therefore, as a user, you also have full control over the use of cookies. You can deactivate or restrict the transmission of cookies by changing the settings in your Internet browser. Cookies that have already been saved can be deleted at any time. This can also be done automatically. If cookies are deactivated for our website, it may no longer be possible to use all functions of the website in full.

Integration of third-party services and content

Within our online offer, we use content or service offers of third parties based on our legitimate interests (i.e. interest in the analysis, optimisation and economic operation of our online services in accordance with article 6, section 1, sub-section f of the GDPR) in order to integrate their content and services, e.g. videos or fonts (hereinafter uniformly referred to as "content"). In all cases, the third-party providers of this content must be able to see the IP address of the user, as they would not be able to send the content to the user's browser without the IP address. The IP address is therefore required for the display of this content. We strive to only use content for which the respective providers use the IP address to deliver content.

Third-party providers may also use so-called "pixel tags" (invisible graphics, also known as "web beacons", "web bugs") for statistical or marketing purposes. Pixel tags" can be used to evaluate information such as visitor traffic on the pages of this website. The anonymous information may be stored in cookies on the user's device and may contain technical information about the browser and operating system, linking websites, visiting time and other information about the use of our online services, and may also be linked to such information from other external sources.

Trusted shops

Integration of the Trusted Shops Trustbadge / other Widgets

Provided that you have given your consent in accordance with Art. 6 (1) (a) GDPR, Trusted Shops widgets are integrated on this website to display the Trusted Shops services (e.g. Trustmark, collected reviews) and to offer buyers Trusted Shops products after they have placed an order.

The Trustbadge and the services advertised with it are an offer of Trusted Shops AG, Subbelrather Str. 15C, 50823 Cologne ("Trusted Shops"), with whom we are jointly responsible for data protection according to Art. 26 GDPR. Within the scope of this data protection notice, we inform you in the following about the essential contractual contents in accordance with Art. 26 (2) GDPR.

Within the framework of the joint responsibility existing between us and Trusted Shops AG, please preferably contact Trusted Shops using the contact options provided in the privacy policy, if you have any data protection questions and wish to assert your rights. Irrespective of this, however, you can always contact the person responsible of your choice. Your enquiry will then, if necessary, be passed on to the other person responsible for a response.

1. Data processing when integrating the Trustbadge / other widgets

The Trustbadge is provided by a US-American CDN provider (content delivery network).

An adequate level of data protection is ensured by an adequacy decision of the EU Commission, which can be accessed here for the USA. Service providers from the USA are generally certified under the EU-U.S. Data Privacy Framework (DPF). Further information is available here. Where service providers are not certified under the DPF, standard contractual clauses have been concluded as a suitable guarantee.

When the Trustbadge is called up, the web server automatically saves a so-called server log file, which also contains your IP address, the date and time of the call-up, the amount of data transferred and the requesting provider (access data) and the call-up. Immediately after the data collection the IP address is anonymised so that the stored data cannot be assigned to you personally. The anonymised data are used in particular for statistical purposes and for error analysis.

2. Data processing after order completion

Provided you have given your consent, the Trustbadge accesses order information stored in your terminal equipment (order total, order number, product purchased if applicable) and your e-mail address after the order has been completed. Your e-mail address is hashed using a cryptological one-way function. The hash value is then transmitted to Trusted Shops with the order information in accordance with Art. 6 (1) (a) GDPR.

This serves to verify whether you are already registered for Trusted Shops services. If this is the case, further processing will take place in accordance with the contractual agreement between you and Trusted Shops. If you are not yet registered for the services or do not give your consent to automatic recognition via the Trustbadge, you will subsequently be given the opportunity to register manually for the use of the services or to conclude the insurance as part of your possibly already existing user contract.

For this purpose, the Trustbadge accesses the following information stored in the terminal equipment you use after you have completed your order: Order total, order number and email address. This is necessary so that we can offer you buyer protection. The data is only transmitted to Trusted Shops if you explicitly decide to take out buyer protection by clicking on the correspondingly designated button in the so-called Trustcard. If you decide to use the services, further processing is based on the contractual agreement with Trusted Shops in accordance with Art. 6 (1) (b) GDPR, in order to be able to complete your registration for buyer protection and insure the order, as well as to be able to subsequently send you rating invitations by e-mail if necessary.

Trusted Shops uses service providers in the areas of hosting, monitoring and logging. The legal basis is Art. 6 (1) (f) GDPR for the purpose of ensuring trouble-free operation. Processing may take place in third countries (USA and Israel).

An adequate level of data protection is ensured in each case by an adequacy decision of the EU Commission, which can be accessed here for the USA and here for Israel. Service providers from the USA are generally certified under the EU-U.S. Data Privacy Framework (DPF). Further information is available here. Where service providers are not certified under the DPF, standard contractual clauses have been concluded as a suitable guarantee.

Trusted Shops Seal of Quality

The Trusted Shops Trustbadge is integrated on our website to display our Trusted Shops seal of approval and any collected evaluations as well as to offer Trusted Shops products to buyers after an order.

This serves the protection of our legitimate interests in an optimised Marketing of our product range. The Trustbadge and the services advertised with it are an offer of Trusted Shops GmbH, Subbelrather Str. 15C, 50823 Cologne, Germany.

When triggering the trustbadge, the web server of Trusted Shops automatically stores a so-called server log file, which contains e.g. your IP address, date and time of the request, transferred data volume and the requesting provider (access data) and documents the request. This access data is not evaluated and is automatically overwritten at the latest seven days after the end of your page visit.

Further personal data will only be transferred to Trusted Shops if you decide to use Trusted Shops products after completing an order or have already registered for use. In this case the contractual agreement between you and Trusted Shops applies.

Design function

On our website we offer the possibility to design products online. We use the services of the following providers for this purpose:
